

A scroll with text on it, featuring a parchment-like texture and wooden rollers at the top and bottom. The text is centered and reads:

I Bless The Lord

I bless the Lord at daylight's dawn
For the beauty of the morn
For the brilliance of the wonders I perceive;
I give Him thanks with all my heart
For the new day's splendid start
As I marvel, 'how could someone not believe'?

I bless the Lord through daylight hours
For the blessings that are ours
For the splendour that is everywhere to see,
For each sound and sight and smell
Have a story that they tell—
They are all a vivid testament to me.

I bless the Lord at night's descent
For the starry sky's extent
For out there I see eternity displayed;
None can number all the lights
Stretched across the heaven's heights—
Before every man on earth a light parade.

So bless the Lord along with me
For the magnificence you see
And don't let creation's witness leave you cold;
But glory give to God today,
Bow your head and with me say,
"Have mercy on me Lord and save my soul".

I bless the Lord when souls are saved
Who like me were long enslaved,
Who through Jesus are forever more set free;
What a joy it is to know
That He'll never let us go—
We will bless the Lord throughout eternity,
We will bless the Lord throughout eternity.

Vincent Lyons.