

Life is Sacred

Life is sacred from inception
In God's image we are made,
That we evolved is rank deception,
A wholly blasphemous charade.

Life is sacred from conception,
The womb, a life's exclusive space;
The feeble foetus needs protection
So God designed the perfect place.

Life is sacred—no exceptions;
Who cares the colour of your skin!
All are equal by election,
All are one blood, we're kith and kin.

Life is sacred—by selection
Nations dare to euthanise
Because of age or imperfection—
Small 'gods' dictate who lives or dies.

Life is sacred— it's reflection
Should cause us all to reappraise
The imperative of God-connection—
In Him is life as Scripture says.

Vincent Lyons.